Client Rights and Important Information:

- You are entitled to receive information from your clinician about their methods of therapy, the techniques they use, the duration of therapy (if known), and the fee structure.
- You can seek a second opinion from another clinician or terminate treatment at any time. If you feel that a change of clinicians is appropriate, we can provide you with the names of other clinicians at your request.
- In a professional relationship, sexual intimacy is never appropriate. If sexual intimacy occurs, it should be reported to the Department of Regulatory Agencies, Mental Health Section, 1560 Broadway, Suite 1350, Denver, Colorado 80202, (303) 894-7766. This same contact information can also be used to report any other grievances you may have.
- Generally speaking, the information provided by and to a client during therapy sessions is legally confidential if the therapist is a licensed psychologist, licensed social worker, licensed professional counselor, licensed marriage and family therapist, licensed or certified addiction counselor, or an unlicensed psychotherapist. If the information is legally confidential, the therapist cannot be forced to disclose the information without the client's consent.
- Generally speaking, the information provided by and to the client during therapy sessions is legally confidential and cannot be released without the client's consent (see exceptions below).
- There are exceptions to the general rule of legal confidentiality of Protected Health Information (PHI). These exceptions are listed in the Colorado statutes (C.R.S. 12-43-218). You should be aware that provisions concerning disclosure of confidential communications shall not apply to any delinquency or criminal proceedings, except as provided in section 13-90-107 C.R.S. There are exceptions that your clinician will identify to you as the situations arise during therapy. Some of these exceptions include: serious threat or intent to harm others or yourself; abuse or neglect of children, abuse or suspected abuse of the elderly or others unable to care for themselves; subpoenaed testimony in criminal court cases and orders to violate privilege by judges in child custody, divorce, and/or other court cases.
- State and Federal laws require that your records are kept private. Such laws require that clinicians provide you with this notice informing you of our privacy of information policies, your rights, and our duties. We are required to abide by these policies until replaced or revised. We have the right to revise our privacy policies for all medical records, including records kept before policy changes were made. Any changes in this notice will be made available upon request before changes take place. Please note, mental health professionals in Colorado are required to maintain records for 7 years after termination of treatment. After 7 years, your medical records may be destroyed. This disclosure serves as notice that your records may be destroyed 7 years after you finish treatment with me.
- Regulation of Psychotherapists: The practice of licensed or registered persons in the field of psychotherapy is regulated by the Mental Health Licensing Section of the Division of Registrations. The regulatory boards can be reached at 1560 Broadway, Suite 1350, Denver, Colorado 80202, (303) 894-7800. The regulatory requirements for mental health professionals provide that a Licensed Clinical Social Worker, a Licensed Marriage and Family therapist, and a Licensed Professional Counselor must hold a masters degree in their profession and have two years of post-masters supervision. A Licensed Psychologist must hold a doctorate degree in psychology and have one year of post-doctoral supervision. A Licensed Social Worker must hold a master's degree in social work. A Psychologist Candidate, a Marriage and Family Therapist Candidate, and a Licensed Professional Counselor Candidate must hold the necessary licensing degree and be in the process of completing the required supervision for licensure. A Certified Addiction Technician must be a high school graduate, complete required training hours, pass the National Addiction Exam, Level I or an equivalent exam, and complete 1,000 hours of supervised experience. A Certified Addiction Specialist must have a bachelor's degree in behavioral health, complete additional required training hours, pass the National Addiction Exam, Level II or an equivalent exam and complete 2,000 hours of supervised experience. A Licensed Addiction Counselor must have a clinical master's or doctorate degree, pass the Master Addiction Counselor Exam or an equivalent exam, and complete 3,000 of supervised experience. A Unlicensed Psychotherapist is listed in the State's Database and is authorized by law to practice psychotherapy in Colorado, but is not licensed by the state and is not required to satisfy any standardized educational or testing requirements to obtain a registration from the state.

Fees:

Individual therapy sessions are 50-60 minutes in length. Payment in full for any portion of your appointment that will not be paid by insurance, is expected at the time of service. Current session cash rate for licensed therapists is $150, $96 for pre-licensed clinicians, and $45 for interns. Please discuss rates for medication management with the office as these rates vary based on who you are seeing and the complexity of your needs.

Risks of Treatment:

Psychotherapy and/or medication management come with potential risks and benefits. Your provider(s) will discuss these at the beginning of treatment and during treatment as appropriate. While there is hope that improvement will occur as part of the therapeutic process, this is not a guarantee. In addition, therapy can be emotionally painful at times and medications may have side effects. You may experience times in which your symptoms seem to be getting worse. Please openly communicate with your provider about any progress or setbacks.

Consultation and Supervision:

It is a common practice for mental health clinicians to consult with other professionals or colleagues about issues that arise in treatment. In addition, for quality assurance standards, peer chart audits are sometimes conducted. By signing this form you are understanding and giving consent for clinicians within Creekside Collaborative Therapy (listed above) to share information with one another for the purposes of coordination of care, consultation/supervision, and quality assurance (chart audits).

Regarding Divorce & Custody Litigation:

If you are involved in divorce or custody litigation, our role is not to make recommendations to the court concerning custody or parenting issues. By signing this disclosure statement, you agree not to subpoena us to court for testimony or for disclosure of treatment information in such litigation; and you agree not to request that we write any reports to the court or to your attorney, making recommendations concerning custody. The court can appoint professionals, who have no prior relationship with family members, to conduct an investigation or evaluation and to make recommendations to the court concerning parental responsibilities or parenting time in the best interest's of the family's children.

Creekside Collaborative Therapy Information:

Creekside Collaborative Therapy is co-owned by Alyce Duckworth, LCSW and Michelle Lefco, LCSW. Creekside employs master's level pre-licensed clinicians working towards licensure. In addition, Creekside contracts with master's level therapists and psychiatric mental health nurse practitioners (PMHNP's). We also offer clinical internships to therapists in master's level counseling programs. One of our PMHNP's offers preceptorships for PMHNP students. Independent contractors are not employees of Creekside, but rather maintain their own independent private practice. Creekside Collaborative Therapy is not liable for the services of independent contractors as each contract clinician is an independent provider.

Creekside Collaborative Therapy PLLC provides marketing services, office space, billing support, and administrative services to our providers. Independent contract clinicians do not supervise or receive supervision from Creekside Collaborative Therapy, PLLC or the other professionals providing services at Creekside Collaborative Therapy PLLC . Independent Contractors at Creekside Collaborative Therapy PLLC are not in a partnership, and have no responsibility for each others' practices.

Creekside Collaborative Therapy provides administrative support to your provider, including billing. Our billing specialist will have access to your information as part of the billing process. Creekside Collaborative Therapy will check your insurance benefits and we will do our best to make you aware of any co-pays, co-insurance and deductibles that you will be responsible for. However, as you are ultimately responsible for any charges that your insurance company does not pay, we encourage you to also call your insurance company to get the most accurate and up-to-date information. Please note that some insurance companies offer "Supervisory" or "Incident-to Billing". For those insurance companies, the services of interns or pre-licensed therapists can be billed under their supervisor when their supervisor is contracted with that insurance company. We accept cash, credit cards and checks as forms of payment. We require an up-to-date credit card be kept on file, unless you have Medicaid. All credit card information is kept online in an encrypted format.

Cancelation & Payment Policies

We require 24 hours notice for all therapy cancellations and 48 hours notice for medication management appointments, except in cases of emergencies. If we do not receive such notice we will charge your credit card the full fee for that service, except if you are covered under Medicaid. Medicaid does not allow providers to charge clients for no-shows. However, our policy is that we may no longer be able to provide services to you if you have two or more unexcused no shows or late cancellations. Please note that if you do not show to your initial appointment you will be charged the full fee of $250 for medication management. Our no show fee for initial therapy appointments and all therapy and medication management follow up appointments is $150. Cancellation notice does not include weekends or holidays. For example, a therapy appointment on Monday, must be canceled on Friday to avoid being charged.

Receipts and statements will be sent to each client on a monthly basis by mail. Please keep your information up to date so that you receive these. Payment is due within 30 days of receipt of statement. After 30 days, any unpaid charges will be charged to your credit card on file unless other arrangements have been made. We reserve the right to send any past due payments of more than 60 days to collections and by signing this form you are giving us consent to release any information needed should you be sent to collections. Please be aware that an 8% charge will be added to your past due amount if your account is sent to collections. You may contact our billing specialist, Christina Chavez-Koontz, at 720-638-0811 with any billing or insurance-related questions.

Grievances:

If you have concerns about your treatment, we encourage you to first talk to your provider. If you do not feel comfortable doing so or if you have tried to do so but your concerns remain unresolved, please contact our Grievance Coordinator, Cory Lefco. He can be reached at 303-770-6933 or at cory@creeksidecollaborativetherapy.net. You can also access our Grievance Form at <https://hipaa.jotform.com/212687398375169>. This link is also posted on our website. If you are insured through Colorado Medicaid, you can also call the RAE to which you are assigned to file a grievance. If you have Medicaid through Colorado Access, please call 720-744-5134. If you have Medicaid through CCHA, please call 855-627-4685. You may also contact the state Ombudsman for Health First Colorado at 303-830-3560 regardless of which RAE you are assigned.

Availability:

You may contact our office at 303-770-6933. Please leave a message and we will generally return your call the same business day if you call between the hours of 9am-4pm. We usually are able to return calls within two hours from 9am-4pm on Monday-Friday (except for holidays). Please also discuss with your provider how to contact them directly. If you are having a clinical emergency, please go to your closest emergency department or contact Colorado Crisis Services at 1-844-493-TALK.

Additional Information:

By signing this form, you also consent to being contacted by regular mail, by e-mail, or by telephone (including a cell phone number) regarding any matter related to your account by Creekside or any entity to which Creekside assigns your account. You also consent to the use of any updated or additional contact information that you may provide to Creekside or any entity to which Creekside assigns to your account, as well as to the use of technology including auto-dialing and/or pre-recorded messages in contacting you.

Any part of this consent form may be revoked at any time by contacting Creekside administrative staff and by providing the revocation in writing. Please note that revoking certain parts of the consent may impact our ability to bill your insurance company, thereby making you fully responsible for the cost of services, or may impact our ability to provide services for you within our practice.

I have read the preceding information. By signing below, I acknowledge my understanding and agree to all the terms discussed in the disclosure statement and agreement form. My signature also serves as consent to treatment with Creekside Collaborative Therapy clinicians.
